The year that was:

Equity:

At the start of the financial year FY10, the world was still reeling from the after effects of the Lehman collapse in end-2008 and the global financial crisis. In response to the global situation, the Indian government had unleashed a set of fiscal and monetary measures to provide stimulus to the economy in such a tough phase. In Apr'09, in its Annual Monetary policy announcement, the RBI announced a further cut in repo (rate at which it lends) and reverse repo (rate at which it absorbs excess cash) by 25 basis points to 4.75% and 3.25% respectively.

Meanwhile, the Indian equity markets saw significant recovery in line with the improving global markets and with improving growth prospects in the domestic economy. Emerging markets including India bottomed out in Mar '09 with BSE Sensex moving from a level of 9709 (Mar 31, '09) to close at 17528 (Mar 31, '10), a gain of 80.5% during FY10. The CNX Mid cap index did better than the broader BSE Sensex and the BSE Small cap index out performed the Mid cap index thus reflecting improved risk appetite in the system. The valuation differential which had increased between the large cap stocks and the smaller stocks during the fall got bridged to some extent in the rally during the year. As has been seen in the past rallies deeply under valued stocks have given the highest returns and needless to say most of these have been in the small and mid cap category. After the initial up trend the markets moved into a range from September '09 with uncertainty on China's growth, concerns on sovereign default in Dubai, parts of Europe etc. However the market has been displaying strength by remaining near the upper end of the band most of the time and not having corrected below approximately 15500. During the year FIIs invested about $4.5Bln in the Indian market a major reversal from the last year. There has been good money flow into emerging markets given the high liquidity in the global financial system and as risk appetite improved with economic recovery.

The Indian economy bounced back extremely well from the global economic crisis which hit most countries in 2008. Even in FY09, amidst the global economic crisis, our economy had grown by 6.7%, which was quite commendable especially when so many developed economies went through a recession. During FY10, the Indian economy continued to recover, with the Indian GDP growing at a rate of 6.7% for the period Apr – Dec'09, and when the final numbers are out for FY 10(Apr'09-Mar'10), it is expected to grow by 7% plus. Also, optimism on Indian economic growth is back, with the Economic Advisory Committee of the Prime Minister of India expecting the economy to grow at 8% plus in FY11.

An extremely significant event during the period under review was the comeback of Congress led UPA, to power at the Centre, in May '09. In fact the month of May '09 would go down in history as one of the best months for the Indian equity market with both the key indices gaining 28%. UPA, with a decisive mandate and unencumbered by the restraining hand of the Left Parties came in with a clear focus on growth and development with special emphasis on the rural sector and faster execution in infrastructure development. In order to keep a check on the high fiscal deficit, the Indian government also announced an aggressive divestment plan which would be led by its paring its holdings in Public Sector Units and would also seek to list all unlisted public sector undertakings with positive net worth and which have been profitable in the last three years.

A big challenge for the Indian economy last year was high inflation, with the Mar'10 figure of Wholesale Price Index (WPI) growing at 9.9% y-o-y. Inflation was benign during the first few months of FY10, but started rising from July'09 onwards and led by food articles, remained at an elevated level towards the end of FY10. Though partly high inflation can be ascribed to supply side issues, the Reserve Bank of India has taken some significant steps since Jan 2010 to tackle this, including increasing the cash reserve ratio (CRR) by 100 bps to 6% in order to withdraw the excess liquidity from the banking system and also raise repo and reverse repo rates by 50 bps to 5.25% and 3.75% respectively, by end-Apr'10.

The budget speech presented to parliament on Feb 26, 2010 focused on continued growth with emphasis on consumption led by India's demographic dividend and thrust on infrastructure investments. The Government continued with its focus on agriculture, rural and social sector investments with increased planned allocation into infrastructure related sectors. The Government affirmed its intent to reduce the fiscal deficit for FY 11 to 5.5% of GDP and further to 4.8% (FY12) and 4.1% (FY13). In terms of increase in revenue sources, the FY11 divestment target for the Public Sector Enterprises is INR 400 bn vis-à-vis the divestment achievement of INR 250 bn in FY10. The 3G auction which was budgeted to collect INR 350 bn for the government in FY11 has now netted about INR 670 bn as on May 19, '10, (last date of the auction), which should help the Government in achieving its fiscal deficit number for FY11. Also in order to broaden base tax collection, additional services have also been brought under the ambit of Service Tax. Robust sentiments on the back of a Union Finance Budget saw the S&P upgrading of India's rating outlook from negative to stable while affirming both long-term and short-term sovereign ratings at BBB- and A3.

A quick analysis of Q4FY 10 corporate results shows that broadly the results of corporate India have been in line with expectations, and the robust growth in revenue figures of companies pretty much captures the strong economic growth in India, that has bounced right back after the slowdown witnessed in late-2008 and early-2009. The first two quarters of the year were like an extension of the scenario that unfolded in the second half of the previous year. Most economic indicators had turned for the better for example the index of industrial production growth. However the slow recovery and the high base led to weak corporate performance in the first half of the year. But the second half was just the opposite. Corporate performance recovered strongly on the back of the global recovery as well as the boost in consumption from the government through fiscal and monetary measures. The low base of last year also played a role in the growth looking much better than expected. Given the current trends we expect the economy to continue to grow at a high pace in the current year as well if there is no further damage to global economic recovery from the western world.

Debt:

The global economy after suffering one of the worst recessions in FY 2008-2009, started to recover in FY 2009-2010, on the back of massive stimulus by governments across the major economies. However, compared to developed economies, the emerging economies fared well. The GDP growth in India, which had slumped to 6.7% during 2008-2009, grew by 7.4% in FY 2009-10.

The financial market during 2009-10 was characterised by prevalence of comfortable liquidity conditions in money markets despite large government borrowing programme and rising pressure on medium to long-term government bond yield on the back of rising inflationary pressure.

During the year the headline Wholesale Price Index (WPI) inflation, firmed up significantly. While the initial inflationary pressure was largely due to rising food and fuel prices, reflecting the impact of a deficient monsoon on agricultural output and the increase in international crude prices, in the second half of the year, the inflation became increasingly generalized due to persistent supply side pressures. This was evident from the acceleration of inflation in non-food manufactured products from -0.4% in November 2009 to 4.7% in March 2010. These inflationary conditions, coupled with the stronger growth, forced RBI to reverse the accommodative monetary policy. RBI started the reversal of its accommodative policy by hiking CRR by 75 basis points and Repo and Reverse Repo by 25 basis points in Q4 of FY 2009-10.

During the year due to ample liquidity, the call rate hovered around the lower range of the Liquidity Adjustment Facility (LAF) corridor throughout the year. However, longer end of the yield curve continued to shift upwards indicating market concerns of fiscal deficit and rising inflationary pressures. While the medium to long-term bond yields, in general, moved up during the year, reflecting inflation and fiscal deficit concerns, the short-term yield softened till Q3 of 2009-10, reflecting the surplus liquidity conditions, followed by a hardening trend in Q4 as the surplus liquidity reduced and there was a general shift in the interest rate environment. The benchmark 10 year yield which was at 7.01% at the beginning of the year touched at high of 8% in Q4 of 2009-10, before closing at 7.84% towards the end of the year. The corporate bonds were stable, with 5 year AAA yield averaged around 8.25% and closed the year at 8.55%. However, the spread between the 5 Year AAA bond, which had hit a high of around 400 bps at the height of credit crisis in FY2008-09, narrowed down considerably to close the year at 101 bps..

FUTURE OUTLOOK:

In the near term, global issues like central bank policy in developed nations and speed of withdrawal of stimulus measures by governments will concern markets. Sovereign debt issues in Greece, Ireland, Italy, Portugal and Spain etc. will continue to impact overall risk appetite of investors across the world. Amongst the domestic issues, monsoon prediction from the Indian Metrological Department suggests normal rainfall. Indian companies continue to show robust revenue buoyancy but the main challenge for them would be to maintain their margins in light of high inflation and renewed wage hike pressures. A significant contribution to forecasted earnings growth in the next financial year comes from the beaten down sectors like real estate and commodities. The commodities space has high linkages to the global economy and therefore a strong economic recovery is critical for the sector to do well and contribute as expected. Also, even though our economy is relatively less affected by global events our markets are integrated with global markets and thus India is not decoupled completely.

The government has taken some bold steps to reduce fiscal deficit like partially de controlling the petroleum sector. In this regard the huge sum collected through the 3G and Broadband Wireless Association (BWA) auctions would help significantly, as also the proceeds from divestment of profitable public sector undertakings. Therefore the macro situation seems to be getting better helped also by moderate commodity prices. In such a scenario Indian companies should perform and grow at a fast pace. However, valuations may not get re-rated in the near term with lingering global economic uncertainties. Such a scenario would offer a number of opportunities to invest with strong growth yet reasonable valuation.

In the medium to long term, we remain sanguine on India's growth prospects, though India's challenge would be to keep inflation under leash without hurting growth. The four drivers of economic growth in India – consumption growth led by India's demographic dividend, thrust on infrastructure roll out, financial intermediation, and India's leading position in the outsourcing markets are very much in place. All these structural forces are expected to play out in the medium to long term. Therefore notwithstanding any short term volatility in the Indian stock market, there is no material change to our broad Fund strategy, though we may continue to restructure the portfolio on a stock specific basis depending upon emerging opportunities.

DEBT OUTLOOK

Going ahead, we expect the RBI to continue with its policy of normalizing the accommodative monetary policy by hiking the Repo and Reverse Repo further during FY 2010-11. As a result of this, we expect that the easy liquidity conditions that prevailed in last year expected to reverse and the short term rates to move upward. However, the long term yield curve is expected to remain steady at higher levels in the initial period, before trending downwards in the later part of the year, as inflation cools off and the majority of the borrowing programme gets completed.

Schedule IX - Statement of significant accounting policies and Notes forming part of the Accounts of Tata Indo Global Infrastructure Fund (TIGIF) for the year ended 31st March, 2010.

A. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. INCOME RECOGNITION:

- a) Dividend income is accounted on ex-dividend dates.
- b) Profit or loss on sale of investments is recognised on trade dates. The cost of investments sold is determined on "weighted average cost basis".
- c) Interest on investments is accounted on an accrual basis. Interest on an investment that is past due for three months is accrued and a full provision is made against all outstanding interest on that investment.
- d) Other income of a miscellaneous nature is accounted when it is received on grounds of prudence.

2. EXPENSES:

- a) All expenses are accounted on an accrual basis.
- b) Expenses not identifiable with any particular scheme are generally allocated to the schemes in proportion to their net assets. Investor related expenses viz: Registrar expenses, investor communications, investor meets etc. are allocated to the schemes in proportion to the number of live folios in the schemes.

3. DEFERRED REVENUE EXPENDITURE:

Initial issue expenses are written off over a period of three years. The unamortised portion of the initial issue expenses Rs.206,149,102/- (previous year Rs.621,239,018/-) is included in the NAV.

4. INVESTMENTS:

- a) Purchase and sale of investments are recorded on the date of the transaction, at cost and sale price respectively, after considering brokerage, commission, stamp charges and any charge customarily included in the broker note.
- b) Rights entitlement pending formal allotment is accounted as investments at issue price plus acquisition cost, if any.
- c) Bonus entitlement is recognised on ex-bonus dates.
- d) Entitlement on sub-division of shares is recognised on the ex-date.

5. PORTFOLIO VALUATION FOR NAV CALCULATION

i. Traded Securities :

Traded Securities are valued at year-end closing market rates on the principal stock exchange (For Equity - Bombay Stock Exchange Limited and for Debt - National Stock Exchange of India Ltd) on which the security is traded (excluding accrued interest, if any, which is accounted separately).

In the absence of a quoted price on the valuation date for equity instruments, the last available quoted price within a period of thirty days prior to the valuation date is used for valuation purposes as per The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) (Mutual Fund) regulation.

ii. Thinly Traded Securities :

Thinly traded equity / equity related securities are those securities whose trade in a month, are both less than Rs.5 lacs and the total volume is less than 50,000 shares. These have been valued on the basis of valuation principles laid down by The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) for the same.

iii. Non-Traded Securities:

a. Non-Traded/Thinly Traded Debt Securities/Asset Backed Securities (other than Floating Rate Debt Securities) of over 182 days to maturity are valued in good faith on a yield to maturity basis by Tata Asset Management Limited (TAML).

The non – traded debt securities have been classified by TAML as “investment grade” and “below investment grade” as at 31st March, 2010. The values applied by TAML for “investment grade” debt securities are on the basis of valuation yields determined by Credit Rating Information Services of India Limited (CRISIL). In the opinion of TAML, these yields determine fair and reasonable values and such basis of valuation is approved by the Tata Trustee Company Private Limited.

These securities have been valued on the basis of valuation principles laid down by SEBI for the same.

Non – traded debt securities with residual maturity of upto 182 days are valued on the basis of amortisation (cost plus accrued interest till the beginning of the day plus the difference between the redemption value (inclusive of interest) and the cost spread uniformly over the remaining maturity period of the instrument).

This basis of valuation is in accordance with SEBI guidelines.

b. Valuation of non traded/thinly traded debt securities with floating rate of interest upto 182 Days to the Interest Reset Date/Maturity Date :

The non-traded / thinly traded floating rate debt securities with a residual maturity / next reset date upto 182 days are valued on the basis of amortisation (cost plus accrued interest till the beginning of the day plus the difference between the redemption value and the cost spread uniformly over the remaining maturity / interest reset period of the instruments) in the absence of any other standard benchmarks in the market.

c. Floating Rate Debt Securities with Put/Call options :

The floating rate debt securities with put/call options shall be valued in terms of the Valuation Guidelines specified above taking into consideration the next interest rate reset date instead of the final maturity date in the absence of any other guidelines from SEBI.

The aggregate fair value of “investment grade” debt securities as at 31st March, 2010 is Rs. Nil (previous year Rs. 48,429,388/-). The scheme does not invest in “below investment grade” debt securities. These balances exclude redemption proceeds due but not received Rs.Nil (previous period Rs. Nil).

iv. Foreign Currency Transactions :

Transactions in foreign currency are accounted for at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities are translated into rupees at the exchange rate prevailing at the Balance Sheet date.

v. Investment in Reverse Repo :

Investment bought on ‘repo’ basis are valued at cost .

vi. Unrealised Gain / Loss in value of Investments / Derivatives :

Following the issue of the Guidance Note on Accounting for Investments in the Financial Statements of Mutual Funds by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, the appreciation / diminution in investments is worked out on individual basis. The value of diminution as at the year end is reflected in the Revenue Account. The loss on investments sold or transferred during the period or year is charged to the revenue account instead of being first adjusted against the provision for depreciation, if already created in the previous year. However, this departure from the Guidance Note does not have any impact on the scheme’s net assets and the financial statements of the scheme. Unrealised appreciation as at the year end is also routed through the Revenue Account but is reduced from the distributable income at the time of income distribution.

vii. Derivatives :

Traded derivatives are valued at year-end closing market rates on the principal stock exchange on which the security is traded. On an ongoing basis, in the absence of a quoted price on the valuation date for derivatives, the last available quoted price within a period of thirty days prior to valuation date is used for valuation purposes.

Non – traded derivatives are valued in good faith by Tata Asset Management Limited on the basis of valuation principles laid down by SEBI.

viii. Mutual Fund Units – Offshore :

Investments in units of Offshore Mutual Fund schemes are valued on the basis of the declared Net Asset Value available with the fund as at the Balance Sheet date.

6. INCOME EQUALISATION RESERVE :

Income Equalisation Reserve is being maintained by crediting / (debiting) the equalisation account in respect of sale / (repurchase) of units by an appropriate amount which represents the distributable income at the time of sale / (repurchase). It is reflected in the Revenue Account after the net excess / deficit of the scheme is determined.

7. UNIT PREMIUM RESERVE :

On repurchase / redemption / resale of units, the difference between the unit face value and the NAV (after adjusting income equalisation reserve) is disclosed as "Unit Premium Reserve".
